

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR THE PROVISION OF ECONSULT SERVICES

1. APPLICATION OF TERMS

1.1 These terms (“Terms”) together with the Order Form(s) and any other documents referred to in these Terms and any such Order Form(s) signed or agreed (electronically or otherwise or as stated in clause 1.2 below) by eConsult Health Limited (“eConsult”, “we”, “us” “our”) constitutes a binding agreement (“Contract”) made between us and the Customer whose details are also stated in the Order Form (“Customer”). All terms and conditions offered by the Customer are hereby excluded from the Contract.

1.2 Each Order Form shall describe the actual Services provided by eConsult and once signed and/or accepted by eConsult shall be a binding Contract by the Customer to receive the Services described in that Order Form subject to these Terms. An Order Form shall be accepted on the earlier of eConsult: (i) expressly giving notice of acceptance by its signature or otherwise; or (ii) taking steps to start fulfilling the Order Form in whole or in part. In the event of any inconsistency between these Terms and anything appearing on the face of the Order Form, the Order Form shall prevail over these Terms.

1.3 Each Order Form shall represent a separate Contract. These Terms shall continue to apply for all Order Forms made under these Terms and each Order Form shall have a minimum duration of 12 months unless otherwise stated on that Order Form, such minimum period commencing as from the start of the earlier of the Services provided under that Order Form or from such other period if stated in that Order Form. After the foregoing 12-month period (or other period stated in the Order Form), the applicable Order Form shall remain in full force and effect unless one party gives to the other 90 days prior written notice to terminate that Order Form with effect from a period after the end of that first stated minimum period. None of the foregoing prevents any or all Order Forms being terminated under Clause 6 of these Terms. If the Customer terminates an Order Form for a breach by eConsult under Clause 6, then unless that breach applies to all Order Forms under these Terms, only that Order Form may be terminated.

2. ECONSULT’S OBLIGATIONS

2.1 eConsult shall provide the Services upon the Terms of the Contract applicable for each Order Form. eConsult shall also:

2.1.1 provide the Services to the Customer as from its own Platform as a competent and professional provider of technology services in accordance with the Services Description;

2.1.2 use reasonable endeavours to provide the Services to the standards set out in the Order Form and any document referred to in it, but the Customer and eConsult both acknowledge that any time for delivery shall be an estimate only and time shall not be of the essence under this Contract;

3.2 The Customer shall ensure that the limitations of any licence granted hereunder shall be applied by the Customer to its Authorised Users and Users. In its use of the Services and the Platform the Customer for itself and its Authorised Users shall ensure that it does not cause eConsult to be in breach of any third party licence.

None of the foregoing shall prevent the Customer being charged an overage charge if the parameters of the Charges and Services stated in an Order Form are exceeded by the Customer. Some of those Charges shall be stated as payable in advance for the Services and some in arrears calculated by reference to usage or time elapse, all as shown in the Order Form. All Charges are due and payable by the Customer to eConsult within 30 days of the date of invoice unless otherwise stated in an Order Form. The Charges are stated net of Value Added Tax (or other sales tax or impost, duty or tariff) which if lawfully due, shall be charged in addition at the applicable rate ruling on the date of eConsult's invoice to Customer. In the event that any Services are not paid for by the due date, in addition to any other rights that eConsult has, it shall have the right to suspend, without notice, all Services under all Order Form(s) with the Customer. No dispute on an invoice and/or Service can be raised (and for such purposes the Customer waives any right to raise one) 90 days following the date of the applicable invoice.

5. AUDIT

eConsult reserves the right to audit the use by the Customer of the Services by reasonable prior written notice to the Customer, including as to the use of them by the Authorised Users and/or Users. In such circumstances, the Customer shall provide all reasonable assistance and cooperation with eConsult in that audit.

jurisdiction makes an order to that effect, or if the other party enters into any voluntary arrangement with its creditors or becomes subject to an administration order, or if any comparable event occurs in any jurisdiction.

6.2 To the extent that the Customer has committed to a minimum term in an Order Form (or otherwise in these Terms for each Order Form) then other than where the Customer is terminating under clause 6.1 and the Customer is not at that time in breach of the Contract, if there is a minimum monthly spending commitment with eConsult, eConsult shall only consent to that early termination upon the payment by the Customer of the remainder of all that minimum monthly spend commitment as at the date of that earlier termination.

6.3 All obligations and liabilities intended to survive the termination of the Contract will continue in full force and effect after termination.

7. LIABILITY AND WARRANTY

7.1 Neither party shall limit or exclude its liability for death or personal injury, fraud or any other liability which it would be unlawful to exclude or limit. None of the foregoing shall limit the liability of the Customer to pay the Charges nor limit the liability of the Customer for any breach of Clauses 3 and 8. Subject to the foregoing, neither party shall be liable to the other whether in contract, tort or otherwise (including negligence) for any indirect or consequential loss or damage whatsoever including any loss of revenues, business, contracts or anticipated savings (being savings that a party anticipated making by entering into this Contract). No warranty not expressly provided in these Terms shall apply to the provision of the Services and the Customer must satisfy itself that its systems are compatible with the Platform to access it and maintain access to it.

The parties agree to treat confidential information of the other in strict confidence and other than allowing the recipient party's directors, employees, contractors and professional advisors access to such confidential information, the recipient party shall not disclose it to any third party without the express prior written consent of the disclosing party. Confidential information shall not include any information which is in the public domain other than as a breach by the recipient party of its confidentiality obligations hereunder. In the event that the recipient party is ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction to disclose any confidential information of the disclosing party, it shall to the extent legally permissible, notify the disclosing party of that fact and thereby allow the disclosing party to seek such protective measures as it can in order to limit the extent of any such disclosure. The foregoing confidentiality obligations shall survive the termination or expiry of all the Order Forms under the Contract and for three years thereafter.

10. DATA PROTECTION

eConsult may collect and keep personal data concerning the Customer's employees, consultants and workers and in doing so pursuant to the provision of the Services, is a data controller of that personal data ("eConsult Personal Data") during the course of the Contract. In respect of the eConsult Personal Data, eConsult shall comply with its obligations under applicable data protection laws. Where eConsult is acting as a data processor for the Customer by processing personal data of the Customer's own patients or customers ("Customer Personal Data") eConsult shall only process and store that Customer Personal Data (a) in compliance with applicable data protection laws having regard to the state of art; (b) in accordance with the instructions of the Customer; (c) in accordance with the provisions of the data processing agreement which the parties shall enter into to reflect any data processing activities of eConsult for the Customer, and the Product requirements for processing and storing of information.
